About IP Addresses

An IP address is a number that's automatically assigned to your computer whenever you are on the World Wide Web. Your computer can be identified on the Internet through your IP address. We use your IP address for the purposes of system administration, to help diagnose problems with our server, and to report aggregate information to our advertisers and partners. When visitors request pages from our site, our servers log the IP address of each visitor. We do not link IP addresses to a visitor's personally identifiable information unless such visitor registers with us. This means that an unregistered visitor's session will be logged, but the visitor remains anonymous to us.

Ads & Cookie Technology

Cookies are very small files sent to your Web browser by a site's server. Cookies cannot get information from your hard drive against your will, destroy files, or send you viruses. Genvelop may use cookies to count the number of its readers who view and click on ads and offers, to deliver content and offers specific to your interests, and to save your password so you don't have to re-enter it each time you visit our site.

Registration Material

Our site's registration form requires visitors to give us contact information like a name, and email address. The sponsor of a rebate, product registration, or other promotion may also require additional information, such as contact information (e.g. address and telephone number), unique identifiers (e.g. mother's maiden name), demographic and profile information (e.g. age, or income level) (the manufacturer or retailer sponsoring a rebate or other promotion may require these types of information in order to process the rebates). Your contact information is used by us to contact you when necessary, though you may opt-out of receiving future mailings pursuant to the choice/opt-out section below. Unique identifiers are collected by us to verify your identity. Demographic and profile data is used by us to tailor your experience at our site, showing you content that we think you might be interested in, and displaying the content according to your preferences. Additionally, if you process, check the status of, or otherwise access information on any rebate, production registration, or other promotion on or through our site, Genvelop may share any information provided to us by you with the manufacturer(s) and/or retailer(s) sponsoring or affiliated with such rebate, product registration, or promotion (collectively "Promotion Sponsors"). Genvelop does not control the practices of Promotion Sponsors. Contests and Surveys

We may periodically run contests and conduct visitor surveys on our site in which we ask visitors for contact information (like their email address). Your contact information is used to contact you when necessary, and we may also use the information gathered in contests and surveys to help us create a better environment for our visitors. You may opt-out of receiving future mailings pursuant to the choice/opt-out section below.

When we transfer and receive certain types of sensitive information, we redirect visitors to a secure server and will notify visitors through a pop-up screen on our site.
